GENERAL PRACTICE RESIDENCIES IN CANADA

THE COLLEGE of General Practice of Canada some years ago drew up regulations governing a second-year or senior internship designed specifically for doctors planning to enter general practice. These are called General Practice Residencies.

The following hospitals have co-operated with the College by establishing these residencies.

The doctor or intern who is interested in registering for one of these courses of training next year should contact the hospital concerned.

PAGES OUT OF THE PAST: FROM THE JOURNAL OF FIFTY YEARS AGO

It is reported in the public press that two patients have been discharged from the lazaretto at Tracadie, New Brunswick. One, a man aged thirty-nine, left a year ago, after receiving twenty injections of nastin. He has been twice examined since his discharge and remains well. The other patient was a man of sixty-seven years of age, who was discharged last November. He received sixty injections and he also remains in good health. The physician in charge of the lazaretto is Dr. Langis.—Canad. Med. Ass. J., 3: 809, 1913.
